

Brief Profile Dr NN Sharma Dean Management

Believes in team work and individual growth with the growth of organization and always a head to take initiative with positive attitude and sincere efforts. Believes that teacher should be a role model for the students through his deeds and to become a good teacher first of all one should be a good human being. Today it is need of an hour that teacher should not only stress on intelligence component but also on emotional component of knowledge. Proud of being teacher and considers it a profession by heart and always motivate students to lead and encourages them to become their own leader did his Post Graduation, M.Phil and Doctorate in Commerce and Management in the field of Banking and Finance from Himachal Pradesh University Shimla and worked as Assistant and Associate Professor in different Govt. colleges of the state for 21 years. He has a wide experience in teaching of Commerce ,Management ,Accounting and Taxation at graduation and post graduation level and he is approved counsellor of MBA/MCom in Indira Gandhi National open university.

Dr Sharma has a wide research vision and guided 17 students for the award of M Phil degree in the field of banking, finance and other new and emerging business issues. He has presented more than 25 research papers in National and 10 in International seminars organised by prestigious institutions of India He has presented two papers on the topics Global slowdown in Asian countries and its impact on FDI an comparative analysis of India and China and Globalization and its impact on IT Sector in India in international seminar at Bangkok organised by Commerce and Management association of India. He got an opportunity to present a paper in International conference at Banaras Hindu University on Customer Relationship Management got 12 papers published in international journal ..” He is life member of number of professional and academic associations and Paul Haris Fellow of Rotary International. He has published seven books at UG and PG level in the field of finance, Accounting Taxation and two are in pipeline. He is regular resource person and delivered number of lectures on communication skills personality development, customer relationship management in different institutions and is trainer to different bankers. He has recently landed back after presenting papers in international conference organized by Commerce and Management Association of India at Sharjah Dubai . Another feather in his cap is added when he was nominated as Joint secretary of Commerce and management association of India at Shajah UAE during this conference. He recently presented a research paper in ITC international conference held at Imphal Manipur on the topic impact of tourism industry in co chaired technical session too. He also attended ITC international conference at Bali Indonesia and presented research paper on the topic changing dimensions of tourism industry in India and also acted as resource person in the said conference. He organized ICSSR sponsored national seminar on the topic Economic Reforms in India as organizing secretary in march 2014 in which more than 130 paper were presented by the researchers of leading university and colleges of the state. The edited book of this seminar is also under publication by the reputed publisher of national level. Recently he presented a research paper in international conference of Indian tourism Congress at Bali Indonesia on the topic “changing dimensions of tourism industry in India and got his one paper published on the topic impact of tourism industry in India. In addition to this he has performed as resource person in different faculty development programmes, National seminars/ workshops. He is nominated as chief editor of the international journal of business communication and management though and national journal of economics today, a publication by Business press India Delhi first issue of which is expected in the month of July 2014 He remained Associate Professor in dept. of commerce and management for eight years and started MBA as coordinator and training and placement officer at Govt. P G College Dharmasala (HP) India. He is member of number of research and academic associations and presently He is Joint Secretary Commerce and Management association of India and Vice President Himachal Pradesh Commerce and Management association He has been honoured with Himachal Kesri Award for his exemplary contribution in the field of Higher Education and By Rotary International Distt. 3070 for his contribution in the field of Literacy. He is Rotary international Paul Harris Fellow and life member of different academic research associations and social organizations too..